

Make a big difference in the life of a dog or cat in need.

Help us shelter them from the storms of homelessness, cruelty and neglect. Protect them from the elements so they can live to see brighter days. So many of the animals we save come from horrendous puppy mills or the death rows of overcrowded shelters or were abandoned and living on the streets. Make a donation to MLAR and the suffering ends for these animals.

It's that simple. The number of animals MLAR can help depends solely on the amount of money we can raise.

There are many ways you can help. Write a check or visit our website and make a donation online. Make a gift of stock or contribute through your company's matching gift program. Create a legacy of planned giving and remember MLAR in your will (our development director can help guide you through the process). We appreciate your financial support - it is the only thing standing between unimaginable suffering and the healthy and happy lives every dog or cat deserves.

Main Line Animal Rescue would like to thank Chris Cline for allowing us to use his remarkable photos of his dog Juji for this brochure. To see more of his photos, follow him on instagram @christophercline.

When others would rather not rock the boat, MLAR speaks out in a big way.

Our advocacy campaigns (anti-puppy mill billboards, bus wraps, promoting pet adoption as regulars on The View and other national television programs) have reached over a quarter of a billion people while our educational programs carry our mission into hundreds of schools every year.

MAIN LINE ANIMAL RESCUE

At Main Line Animal Rescue, we know animals play a big part of your life.

He had big shoes to fill.

When George's best friend passed away he thought he could never love another dog as much as he loved Toby. Then one night George found himself checking out the available dogs and cats on Main Line Animal Rescue's new website. He realized that if he could help another dog, a companion who would stick by him through all of life's uncertainties and love him unconditionally, then it was time to open his home and heart and adopt a dog from Main Line Animal Rescue. Maybe a dog that likes cats. George always wanted a cat.

Hook your wagon to one of the finest and largest no-kill animal shelters in the United States. Main Line Animal Rescue currently has over 360 dogs, cats, rabbits, guinea pigs, and birds available for adoption.

Our hearts are big and our dedication unmatched.

We are MLAR volunteers. Whether it's participating in MLAR's innovative training or pet therapy programs, attending adoption events, creating a special event, walking dogs or caring for our cats and bunnies, our volunteers do everything they can to help our residents become more adoptable and look good so they can find their forever homes.

For information about volunteering, please visit www.MLAR.org.

It was an enormous undertaking –

Helping overcrowded city shelters and rural animal control facilities by pulling thousands of dogs and cats in need of emergency medical care. Working with Penn Vet and other emergency vet hospitals and specialists to provide these animals with a level of care available to "owned" pets and at the same time create one of the best on-site spay/neuter/dental veterinary clinics in the country.

We worked tirelessly to meet our goals because letting them down was never an option. Our lifesaving efforts continue to this day thanks to the support of generous men and women just like you.
